

Opportunities and Challenges in Legal Process Outsourcing

Overview

The Legal process outsourcing (LPO) business is witnessing a surge, thanks to the rise in the number of legal cases in developed countries, hit by recession. LPO has emerged as a perfect solution for in-house legal departments of large multinational corporations and law firms looking at cutting their legal costs. By 2010, the LPO industry is projected to be worth $640 million. However, LPO businesses have their own share of problems. In India, it is not difficult to set up an LPO business, thanks to the lack of regulatory requirements, but the challenges of running the business are many...

How to:

- Maximise profits in LPO business
- Run your business more efficiently
- Tactfully deal with challenges
- Service your clients better
- Identify fresh opportunities

Who will benefit:

- Entrepreneurs in LPO
- CXOs of LPOs
- Lawyers
- IT heads of LPOs
- Prospective Entrepreneurs
